BRAND'S PREMIUM STOCK

MILL is now admitted to be the best mill of the kind extant. It has, on several occasions, contended for the award of merit with other mills, and particularly with the famed "little Giant," and in every instance has taken the premium. As recent trial with the latter upon the Fair Ground of the Southwestern Agricultural and Mechanical association, it again took the prise. It stands now without a rival.

This mill combinea three principles—that of cutting with several steel blades, with that of crushing and grinding. It is heavier and stronger, and less liable to break or get out of repair, that of crushing and grinding. It is heavier and stronger, and less liable to break or get out of repair, that one of the mill before the public. It is more easily adjusted, being set coarse or due by a single acrew, which may be done by a boy ten years eld. It may be used for entiting and grinding apples, turnips, best of understandards and with a small additional expense, will cut and grind corn with shook, which can be done by no other mill extant. And finally, it has greater grinding surface, and will grind finer, faster, a grace grinding surface, and will grind an use. It is furnished complete, with sweep hook and screws, and any farmer, with his angur and axe, can set it up and have it grinding in half an hour. Mrs. Hawkins and Trainer, of the City Fonndry, on Main atreet. near, reston, have established a mannfactory of Brainer, and stock growers in the Sonth and West's called to its amperior claims to public favor.

Meet the Democracy at Gilman's

The Louisville Jonraal, of yesterday, in very distinct and emphatic terms, avows its great anxiety for the preservation of the peace of the city at the approaching election. Every good citizen will heartily inderse the following from the artitle alluded to:

Let no man who has a right to vote here be desied the privilege. Let every one be made to feel that he can no to the pol a securely ashecan go to his place of desiy business. Let no one have the shadow of a pretext that he is afraid to exercise his legal rights. And let the first man and the lest man and every man who shall attempt, by rilegal vi lence, to throw the elighnest obtacle in the way of the due exercise of the right of voting, be at once segred by the constituted au-thorities and nauded over for punishment.

This is just the view which every law-abiding and respectable man in Louisville should exert himself to enforce. The reputation of the city has been damaged to an incalculable extent, by the terrible riots of 1855. The value of its property and its business have suffered to the extent of millions siready, and the occurrence of similar brutal ruffianism heroafter, would inflict a fatal blight on all her future prospects. Every thinking man must realize this. Is there a single individual in our midst, who feels the slightest concern for the moral and religions reputation of the community in which he lives, or who holds any interest in her material prosperity, who is willing to make so great a sacrifice for the paltry considcration of local party success? It is certain that none such can be found, unless he is deplorably afflicted with partisan insanity. Let us, then, witness the redemption of Louisville from the fenl stain which has hitherto rested on her good name, in consequence of the deeds of brutal violence perpetrated by lawless desperadoes. If it is not done, we shall be without excuse. It has been done in other cities of double and troble our population, and there can be no reason why proper precautions would not be as effectual in Louisville as cirowhere.

While on this subject, we will take occasion to suggest that we feel, and we think all judicions men will concur with us, that the Journal's in-Samuatory allusion to the transactions of 1855, are not consistent with the earnest desire he expresses for the preservation of order now. The facts connected with that matter are before the world, and its judgment has been formed upon it, as to the respective share of guilt belonging to all concerned. It can answer no possible good purpose to allude to past occurrences.

It is also untrue, that any portion of the Demoeratic party wish to see miserial come upon our city. On the contrary, a most anxious desire exists, to see peace and good order restored, and

Journal, is out of place, and we might say snsideiont in connection with his avowed object to secure a peaccable and orderly election.

As to the charges so repeatedly made, and new Democratic party are concerned, it is utterly about his election. without foundation. We personally know it to the purity of the elective franchise, and we hape in power. The editer is a cunning oil fex, and trate their plans and purposes. The taint of Abelitonism and sectionalism was never found deserva; if, indeed, such a criminal scheme has been est on foot.

We have never thought that our city au one of the control of the state of the state

A "deplerable failure to preserve the peace the election of Angust, 1855;" " the authorities could not be regarded as consurable for not having made adequate preparations to meet the crisis." The assertion that "the Irish and Germans. throughout the city," made " a simultaneous attack upon our native born population," is utterly false, as every one here knows. From morning till night they were hunted, pursued, beaten, and murdered, without cause or provocation. So much for the simultaneous attack. The authorities not to blame, says the editor. If the Irish and Germans made the attack, had not the Journal, for several days previous, given warning, by representing them as being enraged like wild beasts, and anxious to drive out the natives; and did he not publish that large bands of Irish bullies were imported? He did. Why, then, did not the anthorities prepare for it? The answer is cary. They knew the Journal's statements were not true. If they had believed them, they would have mustered a regiment of policemen. The murderous strife was commerced, and carried on, by the American party. Everybody knows that to be the fact. Were not the anthorities warned beforehand by the Democratic party? They were; but not seeming to heed the warning, a formal proposition was made to the Know-Nothing party by the Democrats, to unite, and take the necessary steps to preserve order and quiet. The proposition was rejected, for the alleged reason, that the city authorities were competent to keep the peace, and that any outside arrangement, for that purpose, between the partles, would imply distrust of them. The truth is, neither the Jour nal, nor the authorities of the city, cared a copper how the peace of the city was disturbed on the day of the election, if there was a likelihood of nobody being injured much, except the Irish and Germans. As evidence of this, many arrests were made on the day of election, but the parties attacked and abused were arrested, while those who did the beating and bruising were permitted to go

An election is at hand, and much excitement prevails. Apprehensions of violence are felt by | tice many, and not without reason, in view of the past. We tell the authorities so, and call upon them to preserve the city from the re-enactment of the scenes of bloody Monday. Are they now forewarned? In the event of another "deplorable failure to preserve the peace," what will be the excuse? A convenient plea would be, that the Journal and its friends expected no difficulty.

But the Journal admi's now, that " the regular tuthorities of the city have the power to keep the Hit; him again, Sambo. Your ally, Sam, is Journal and its friends expected ne difficulty. But the Journal admits now, that " the regular " We are giad to hear it. Don't doubt it, sourcy fellow, and you are no better. But will they do it? That's the question.

Mr. Fillmore, the model President of the K ow-Nothings, has solemnly warned the country against the madness of clusting a sectional President-thinks it would load to disunion-says the South would not tolerate it, ought not to submit to it. Tens of thousands in the South, among the Buchanan men, also regard the election of a Black Republican President, pledged against their astitutions, as an event that would be fatal to the Union. They dare beforehand to speak of it, pose of injuring one who had done him no wrong and to warn the country for the general good. But the editor of the Louisville Journal is all the who writes from Bloomington, Indiana, speaking ists -hoots at the idea of secession, in the event all who wish to die easy and go to heaven, to vote of inaugurating an Abolition President-says it for Fremont," and sade, "not many of the Hoosiers would be a "contemptible abortion"-that it will ever get to heaven if this is the read." would be " crashed in the bud;" that it would be "nnblushing treason."

Fremont is out of the question—that "his election is as impossible as that of the Pope's or the

T. Corwin's Speech at Carthage. We repeat all that has been said in this in ral for the last three days respecting the Pennsylvania election. If the Democrais have carried the State elections, as we have always leading to believe they would, then Col. Fremon's election by the people sout of all human pronability, if not possibility, and Mr. Fillmore stands in just the same position he did before. If the Democracy have been defeated, then Mr. Fillmore's prospects are greatly benefit et, because the ticket on which the election was based was two-thirds Fillmore and one third Fremont, which is a sufficient evidence of the comparative numericial weakness of the Republicons, to say nothing of the fact that the latter have not ventured to pul forward an electoral ticket.—New York Express.

This paper supported Fillmers and Donelson up to the time of the Indiana State election, and ha editor, Wm. M. French, receiving one grand disgust at the result, took down the names of the Know-Nothing nominees, and run up the names of Fremont and Dayton.

This sudden change caused quite a sensation at the time. Some of the intensified Americans got together a number of the papers, and made a bonfire of them, and we understand signified their wrath in sundry other ways.

But the fiercer the storm, the sooner it is over and Fronch's paper is ont again with Fromont The editor states that there was but little or re

> Prentice continues his abase of Hon. John L. Robinson, for the speech he made from the balcony at the Galt Honso, on Saturday night. On that occasion nothing was said by Mr. R. to warrant such an assault. But framing a lie as a protext for his abuss, he goes on as follows:

This fellow (Robinson) a few weeks ego, in a speech to an Indiana meetins, made some scandalous remarks in regard to Mr. A. Patrick, who was said to have been killed in Kanasa. As soon as he went down from the stand, a relative or friend of Mr. Patrick slapped him, cancel him, and kicked him, the poor devil making no manner of resistance.

Hore is a sheer invention-a lie, out and out. The whole story is a gross fabrication. No relative or friend of Patrick ever made an assault upon Mr. Robinson. He was not slapped, kicked or oaned; no relative or friend of Patrick over called apon him as he "went down from the stand." and Wo venture to say that it ever any one attempts to slap, kick or cane John L. Robinson, it will be after the manner of the Louisville Journal-on paper. It is true he was, during the campaign, waylaid and attacked by a band of abolitionists with clubs prepared for the purpose, but Mr. R. did make "resistance," and a successful resistance

It is searcely worth while to defend one against such malignant assaults, but as the incidents are dotailed in the Journal with an air of truth, it may be a duty to expose it.

In Mr. Robinson's remarks at the Galt House the entertainment you would have been invited to would have been an abslition speech." The audience, as with one voice, cried out they would not have welcomed him to Louisville at all. "Thon if you would not," asked Mr. Robinson, "why do you oberish in your bosom a press that cailed upon our people to vote for Morton." And it is for this that the Journal does not scruple to make up a lie out of whole cloth, and retail it with a degree of minuteness, resembling the trath, for the pur-

We venture to assert that a more unworthy and disgusting paragraph has not appeared in any newspayer in the country during this canvass, than the above. It is a specimen of malignant party spite and rancor, at which every just and manly sentiment in the bosom of Kentuckians turns away with loathing and revolt. If it was intended to help the cause of Mr. Fillmore, it will fail of its object. The character and standing of the distinguished visitors from Indiana are above the reach of such shafts as those hurled by the Shelby News .- Lou. Times.

Mesers. EDITORS: The speech of the Hon. John J. Crittenden, in Trenton, at the barbsous on the 15th inst., brought out three of the brethren.
They have been acquainted with Mr. Crittenden in a long time, and have the utmost confidence in him as a man of truth. What he said about Mr.
Buchanan convinced them that he was the man for them to vote for, notwithstanding they had, previous to hearing Mr. Crittenden, said that they would vote for Mr. Fillmore. This seems to be contageous wherevar Mr. Crittenden speaks in the Green river country. I would give you the names of the individuals, but they object because they say that Know-Nothings would not let them rest till after the election.

The Great Barbecue at Gilman's ! It is rendered certain now that Gov. Willard R. W. Woolley, Chas. Anderson, and Beriah Ma goshu, will attend and speak at the Grand Barbecue at Gilman's, on Tuesday, the 25th. In addi tion to these distinguished names, other speakers, of the highest order of merit, will be in attend ance. This is about the last grand reunion the Democracy will have in this part of the State previous to the election, and a generous effort will be made to rival the great meeting at Lexington in the 23d. Kentuckians are invited from every district, county, and precinct in the State, and we expect that a demonstration will be made upon the occasion which will exceed in moral power and grandeur any like positical event in the history of our glorious old Commonwealth. Amle preparations have been made to entertain enty-five thousand nersons.

OIL CARE FOR FEEDING CATTLE. -It is perhaps generally known that nearly all the oil cake pro duce i al the American oil mills is shipped to England, where it is considered an indispensable articl of food for stock. I t is there generally considered worth more than double the quantity of corn meal, espec' by for fat oning cattle, and many persons are of epinion that the peculiar rich flavor of English boof, of which we hear so much, is mainly attribatable to this article of food. It is very rarely used in this country, and for this the reasome are not very obviour. Two years ago, when corn was high, one of our most eminent stock Palsers in the interior used forty to filly tons, we anderstand, with great estisfaction. Corn will probably be high again this season, and it may be at important question whether oil cabe may not be advantagoously used here. The price fluctuates somewhat, depending on the demand in England. It is now about $120 per ton, and when ground is worth about 70 cents per bushel. We can see no reason why this article may not be of equal value here, compared with grain as in England. It so, at the present prices of corn, it must be ec nomy to use oil cake meal at present prices. in place of corn meal.

We believe that the oil cake can be procured bara at the cil mill of Waters & Co., at all times, in quartities to suit purchasers, either ground or in calles, at the current rates.

THE FINE ARTS.

Among the beantiful collection of the fine arts than the portraits by Cogswell. For producing on canvass that desirable delicacy of tint, perfection of feature, and real life-lise, flesh and blood expression, Cogswell certainly stands in the front rank of his profession. Connoiseeurs and ama teurs both gaze with admiration on these superior productions of the pencil (wielded by a maste payable to the carriers; and it is served betimes | hand, and directed by a mind devoted to the art) in all parts of the city, l'ertland, Shippingport, and seem to expect words from the lips of the picture of the beautiful miss, on the right, or to hear the twang of the bow, or see the Who will go without the news, when it can be flight of the arrow, of the boy at the top of the served them, at their own doors, bright and oarly group. No one, at even a casnal glance, can fail to see in this group the remarkable likeness and expressive portraiture of the features of two of our well-known and highly respectable citizens. The pictures on the right and left are not, as some have supposed, mere fanoy pieces; but are true portraits of the daughters of one of our prominent business men, and are, in our estimation, al of them, pictures of very superior merit. We understand these pictures are entered mercly for exhibition, and not for competition. As we sta ted yesterday,

Death of Capt. Wm. P. Jarvis. The details of the news from Nicaragua bring the sid intelligence of the death of the young gentleman whose name houds this brief notice He was mortally wounded in an orgagement at San Jacinto, on the 6th of Saptember last. It is mendless to say that the deceased fell gallantly fighting in a cause which was dear to his heart. The deceased was the eldest son of William Jarvis, Esq., a merchant of this city. He had embraced the profession of law, but a desire to eco tribute semething to the great cause of human iberty, had attracted him from the practice of hi profession. He was frank, generous, and secial in his character almost to a fault, and few yours men could number a larger and more attached civ cle of friends. The performances last night were very good, esecially the comedy. To-night is Mrs. Farren's last appearance, and she presents as a bill the tragady of La Tour de Neele, and Woman's Rights We are satisfied that if she wishes to succeed be fore those who are true judges of talent, she will drop tragedy and henceforth play only in comedy AN CPERA HOUSE.

Why cannot Louisville have an opera house and sustain the opera (English)? Cincinnati with much less musical taste and talent, will soon establish it, and why not we? A good compan could procure the north Hall in the Masonio Tem ple, now about finished, and give two or three evenings per week. We feel confident that with talent in orchestra and vocalists, the opera could be successfully established. Will not some or our isfluential musicians move in this matter? IN THE SOUTH.

We have but little from New Orleans this week. On the night of the 15th Mad. Sieminski-a new name in the musical world-gave a grand concert at Odd Fellows' Hall. On Sunday evening, the luch, a secred concert was given in St. Joseph's Church for the benefit of the Church. The New Orleans Picasune, in answer to the New York Musioni Review, which said that the opera "Star the North" could not be successfully produced outside of the Opera Comique in Paris, says that it has been played successfully two seasons in New Orleans, and no doubt will have a run during the approaching season. The operatic and dramatic sees on will open in the Crescont City about the ele e of the present month, or the first of Novem ber. Every preparation is making to open in full tide at the St. Charles, the Gaiety, Orleans, and

FOREIGN ITEMS.

SUMBLY GARDENS.—The season terminated here on Tuesday evening, September 30, with an entertainment for the benefit of M. Jullien; we cannot give a better idea of the entertainment of th FOREIGN ITEMS.

The programme of the evening was a monster programme in the strictest source of the term There was first a selection from Mendelssohn artist from America, of whom we have had pre-vious occasion to speak in terms of high commen dation. Mr. Milland possesses a tener voice of admirable quality, and a style distinguished for careful culture. The chorns, "Thanks he to God," was unanimously encored; and the entire selec-tion, which was conducted with equal intelligence non, which was conducted with equal intelligence and care by M. Jullien, afforded unqualified pleasure. After "Elijah" (Part II), came the overture, "Wedding March," and chernal finale (solos by Miss Stabbach) from "A Midsummer Night's Dream." With these eplendid and imaginative musical illustrations of Shakspeare M. Jullien and his orchestra are so thoroughly familiar that they always go admirably, and on the present occasion nothing but the warmest wrise was due to the othing but the warmest praise was done to the nothing but the warmest praise was due to the (instrumental) performers. Among other features of the second part may be mentioned the genial old hallad, "John Anderson my Jo," very sweetly sung by Miss Kate Rance; a violencello fantasia by Servais, excented with wonderful dexterity by Master Demunck, "Una Intivalagrima," given with unpre ending expression by Mr. Millard, and the piquant allegrotto from Beethoven's Stheamphony. The last one of the demand of Sth symphony. The last, one of the cheraux de bataille of M. Jullien's orchestra, performed with a delicacy that could scarcely be surpassed, was keenly enjoyed by the audience, who would fain have heard it again had the conductor been willing; but happily he was discreet enough to reus happily he was discreet enough to re-The third part of this almost interminable concert began with the overture to "Oberon," and ended with the National Anthem, in which al the principal singers took part with more or less

ITALIAN OPERA AT DRURY LANE.-Mr. Boalo has entered into arrangements with Mr. E. T. Smith for a series of operatio performances at Drury Lane Theater, commencing at the end of October. The singers will comprise Mdme, Gris and Signor Mario, Mous. and Mdme. Gassier, Mdme. Amadei, Signor Lorini, Signor Abbilini, Signor Rovere, Herr Formes, and other members of the distinguished troppe who have lately ocaclaid to ruccessful an engagement in Dablin.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Paul are riving their musical entertainment, "Patchwork," in Birmingham with great success. .—On Thursday week a now piece from a American repertoire of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams was produced at the Treater-one of singular construction, and evidently designed for a turprise; a piece of diablerie, in fact, entitled "Lucifor Matches, or the Yankee — ," in which Mrs. Barnoy Williams, as an Americaa servant, culated his resources, and the result was a pne-Pacine O'Rogherty, which he performed in his usual racy style; but the amount of amusement to be gathered from this source is scarcely sufficient to satisfy an English audience.

DREAT LANS.—On Monday the comedy of "London Assurance" was revived; and Mrs. Emma Walter appeared in the highly-effective part of Land Gre. Showker. The auters, however, felled ady Gay Spanker. The actress, however, failed to find in it those opportunities of sparkling act-ing to which we have been accustomed, and to which Mrs. Nisbert gave such exquisite expression. Mrs. Waller confined horsell, as usual, to a quiet and judicious reading of the perl; avoided all point-making, and ignored many passages usually condered salient. Her style of acting excites no rendered ration. Her style of acting excites no enthusiasm, whether in a tregio or conic mood; and, on the whole, we must confess that we were much disappointed, particularly as we were taught to expect so much from the lady's talents.

STANDARD.—Mr. Marston's play of "The Patrician's Daughter" was performed on Monday, when Mr. Anderson and Miss Elsworthy ueted Edgar Mordaunt and the Lady Mabel. The performance was witnessed by a reverse was and a new control and a second control of the performance was witnessed by a reverse of the control of the performance was witnessed by a reverse of the control of the performance was witnessed by a reverse of the control of the contro formance was witnessed by a very crowded andlonce, and the more postical speeches were received od with much applause. Виминенаи.—The success which attended the performances at Liverpool of Mr. Web ter and Madamo Coleste has followed them to Birmingham, where they have been playing to houses crowded to the ceiling. "Janet Pride" has been Collins, the comedian, respect to a crowded house the attraction, and the local papers are loud in the in The Nervous Man, and the Happy Man, with praise both of Madame and Mr. Webster. Mr. and Mrs. Goo. Vandenhoff, after a success fal tour of some twelve moaths in England, Ireland, Sectland, and Walce, are about to return to sottle in the United States, perhaps in Boston, where Mrs. Vandenhoff's frlends reside, and where it is expected Mr. V. will devote his time to lectures and readings. .

We find the following very flattering notice of the Florences also in the News, and copy it because it is but the truth:

The success of Mr. and Mrs. Florence, in the scenie artist; other members of the company not omio drama of the "Yankee Housekeeper," at Drury Lane, was one of the most prominent emeng the theatrical events of the past season. For a period of seven weeks they continued to attract orowded houses to witness the delineations of the "Irish Peasant Boy" and the "Yankoe Help," then for the first time introduced to the Brilish public. Upon the conclusion of their Drury Lane engagemen, they made a provincial teur, where they met with decided excess, the press of the United Kingdom bestowing the most flattering encomiums on their representations. Mrs. Florence is one of the most versatile actresses of the day.

Mr. Florence, in his character of the Irish Boy. is at least equal to any living lrish comedian; and it is to be hoped that he will return on some early ceasion to renew his acquaintance with the Lon-

The musicians and most distinguished dilettanti of Gormany have formed, under the auspices of Duko Ernest, of Saxe-Coborg-Gotha, a society, sitions of Handel, the majority of which only exist in rather incorrect manuscript copies.

ANOTHER DUEL .- A duel was lately fought near Toronto, Canada, butween an Englishman and a Yunkee, who became hostile from an excess of love—for a young lady. The Yankee received a bull-t in the shoulder. The Toronto Colonist, commenting thereon, styled the combatants two folks, whereupon the Englishman, flushed with victory, sends a letter to the editor of that journal, in which he says: "I was more especially inclined to fight to show that a native of England is no inferior antagonist to a Yankee. You have insulted we by calling me a fool noder such circ." In New Bedford, J. P. Addams and Wyzeman Marshall are playing—Marshall as Brutus, Addams as Sam Patch.

In Alkany "Dred" is having a run—Mr. G. L. Aikon making his first appearance on Menday evening as Hay Gordon in "Dred." Strakosch's design as Hay Gordon in "Dred." Strakosch's design him being named a coward, you can hear further from me by addressing a line to that effect in your paper." He signs himself "The Englishmur who was jealous of his own honor." The editor takes the challengs very coolly, declining to "hear further" from hun, and concludes with advising his challenger to make the acquaintance

FURTHER BY THE ARABIA. HALIPAX, Oct. 24. The Lendon papers are filled with discussions f the financial prospects in Europe. The Time of the financial prospects in Europe. The Times of Wednesday says of the advance in the bank rate, supposing prudent counsels prevail, the only consequence on 'Change will be that the artificial purchase of gold which the Bank of France is now driven to make in London will e ase, and that our discount merket will return to an easier position according to the progress towards a gen-eral revival of confidence on the continent; as-suming, on the centrary, an inflation in l'aris from increased paper inques, gold will be drained thence to this and other countries, and great buoy-ancy in trade, coupled with increasing abundance of money, must be anticipated here.

The Times of Thursday says the next monthly statement of the Bank of France will be looked for with greater anxiety than ever before. The last letters mention that the drain was not increasing, but nothing transpired subsequently as creasing, but nothing transpired subsequency as to the presence on this side.

The returns of the Bank of England are not awaited with equal interest. It is to be expected that the next returns will present a remarkable diminution in the amount of employed notes.

On a single day the applications for discount advances are known recently to have exceeded a vances are known recently to have exceeded a million pounds, and are understood on many oth er occasions to have been extremely large. The greater part of these advances will have to be aid on Monday next, simultaneously with the falling due of dividends. It is therefore plain that dividends with this quarter will afford no relief, the position of affairs being precisely the same as if the public had already read them LONDON—English fundaure quiet, without ma-terial alteration.
